Vanity, Vanity in Abundance

Today we are also reminded that we are in a transitory world. Hence, it is a call to make use of the things of this world prudently without losing our ultimate goal. Only when we make heaven our goal that the full meaning of life would be revealed and realized.

The first reading of this Sunday begins with a warning: “Vanity, vanity, the preacher says vanity...!” It strikes a reality that most of us have neglected. However, one day each one of us will come to terms with it. The Preacher calls us to remember God in all we do. He reminds us that there will be an ultimate end to all created things. He also reminds us that the ultimate goal here on earth is to walk our way straight to heaven.

The second reading hits the nail on its head. Paul succinctly differentiates true life, that is, a life lived in Christ, from a life lived outside Christ. Without mincing words, he reminds us that we must be heaven bound where Christ is everything. Hence, Paul tells us: “Kill everything in you that belongs to only earthly life, fornication, impurity, guilty passion, evil desires, greed, false gods, and never tell each other lies.” This call to “kill everything evil” is simply a call to transform our lives, a call to purity of life, and a call to remain steadfast.

Many Christians have become so attached to the things of this world that we hardly reflect on heaven anymore. This is because it has become an ancient tale told by the ignorant and believed by fools. What Paul advocates for here is a Christ-centered life. That is, a life well lived on earth will qualify us for the heavenly banquet.

In today's gospel, Jesus speaks to us as he did to the man from the crowd: “Watch out and be on your guard against avarice of any kind, for a man's life is not made more secured by what he owns.” The pursuit of wealth and the pleasures of this world have blinded us to the reality that we are pilgrims here on earth. Avarice is one of the seven capital sins. It is a sin that makes one become like the material good that one seeks. It is a hidden enemy of every child of God. So, we must avoid it because it is dangerously contagious!

Word Of Life

“We thank you, heroic mothers, for your invincible love! We thank you for your intrepid trust in God and in his love. We thank you for the sacrifice of your life” (EV 86).
